I'm excited to report Winterfest Camden, which took place from Friday 7 to Sunday 9 July, was a big success.

More than 7,000 people made their way down to Onslow Oval in Camden, which was transformed into a winter wonderland for three days of fun-filled winter themed activities and entertainment for the entire family.

It was amazing to see so many families from near and far enjoy ice-skating and the ice slide; the mechanical snowboard and snow globe; activities for kids and the inclusive space; live entertainment and ice performances; and the incredible food and beverage stalls that turned up the flavour at the event.

While the wind proved challenging on the Saturday, with the event needing to be shut down early for safety reasons, it definitely didn't dampen the cheery mood down there.

I'd like to thank all the staff and contractors involved in helping make the event the success that it was, your input and efforts are very much appreciated.

Running feel-good events just like Winterfest Camden brings me such joy, because you can really see just how much fun our community has while attending. I know the memories they make with their children and their friends and the laughter they share will last them a lifetime.
