Contractors selected to bring two projects to life

Residents are one step closer to seeing a new community facility at Spring Farm and playground at Gledswood Hills, after Camden Council appointed two contractors to bring the projects to life earlier this month.

HPAC Pty Ltd will deliver a new multipurpose community facility of approximately 500 square metres, at Richardson Road, Spring Farm. The building will consist of:

- An activity hall;
- Meeting room;
- Foyer;
- Kitchen;
- Amenities; and
- A carpark, with 26 spaces.

Construction on the $3 million project will start in May and is due to be complete late 2019, weather permitting.

Hadizk Group Pty Ltd will deliver the new playground and landscaping at the corner of Duncombe Avenue and The Hermitage Way, Gledswood Hills. The new neighbourhood playground area will include:

- A variety of playground equipment;
- A shade sail;
- A large, central 'kick around' area;
- New landscaping and trees;
- A shelter with two picnic settings;
- A drinking fountain; and
- Bench seating.

The $400,000 project will also start in May and is due to be complete late 2019, weather permitting.

Mayor of Camden, Cr Theresa Fedeli, said the two projects will be welcomed by the growing population in both areas.

"Gledswood Hills is home to more than 6,000 people and Spring Farm is home to more than 5,000," Cr Fedeli said.

"We know these residents, many of who are young families, need beautiful spaces to enjoy. So, we're working hard to deliver this.

"When complete, the community facility and playground will provide creative and dynamic spaces for their respective communities, as well as residents all over the Camden area."
